Page Pack Top Plate Gaskets

Precision Press Products, LLC now make and stock rubber gaskets for the top plates of your page packs. Many of our page pack rebuild customers have requested that we manufacture these rubber gaskets. We receive many page packs from our customers that have excessive rust and corrosion of the metal parts inside the page pack, due to water being introduced thru the top plates. These rubber gaskets will help eliminate the water from getting inside the page pack, especially when they are clean and do not have the layer of ink on top from years of use. We can sell you these gasket sets (2 per set) for either your 9 column metro style packs or your 8 column metric style packs. Just let us know which style page pack you have, so that we can send the correct set of gaskets.
