Koegel Slitter Hub

We just found quite a few of these brand new Koegel slitter hubs on the shelf that we made a number of years ago for a customer when they were doing a web reduction. These were left over after the job was completed and it is now time to let someone use them that needs them. We have reduced the price on them and when they are gone the price will disappear too. We will continue to take orders for these hubs in the future, but not at this price.

For more information on this and all our other pressroom related products, please give us a call.
